Real Ingredients, Real Solutions.

Milne MicroDried is all about trying something new! We have dried papaya, mushrooms, snap peas, black beans and chickpeas in development to join other really interesting varieties that were just introduced like organic cauliflower, tomato halves, rhubarb and broccoli.

And our drying process is new! MicroDried's proprietary dehydration technology uses low impact vacuum radiant energy to help preserve the flavor, colors and essential vitamins and minerals in each variety. Every product is non-GMO, gluten and allergen free and comes in unique shapes, cuts and sizes with both chewy and crunchy textures – all with no added

colors, sugars or preservatives.

So, bring us your ideas! We have an innovative, proprietary drying process and an R&D new product development team that is nimble, flexible and fast to market. We are happy to develop customized, healthier, clean label ingredients for our customers for new product applications.
